7th Symposium GE-VD

February 10th 2022, 13:00-17:15

Geneva University Hospitals (HUG)

Prebiotics and probiotics

Context

Many patients focus on nutrition with the aim to improve their gut microbiota and ultimately their health.

A better understanding of the interactions between nutrition, pre- and probiotics and gut microbiota could open up new therapeutic options for chronic diseases. This year's symposium aims at summarizing the impact of oral intakes, whether nutrition, nutritional compounds or probiotics, in health and disease.

Aims

To create a group of physicians/scientists/health professionals /industrials interested by the nutritional modulation of microbiota and its impact on energy metabolism.

Public

Professionals (physicians, scientists, dieticians, nurses, pharmacists...)

Organisers

Laurence Genton, Jacques Schrenzel
